'Depressed Area' Action Forecast

By JOSEPH D. HUTNYAN

Washington (UPI) —President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to act quickly on his promise to draw up a blueprint for rehabilitating the economies of states hounded by chronic unemployment.

Observers here predicted the Kennedy administration's bill probably would be considerably more liberal than previous Republican plans, but not quite so broad as some past Democratic proposals.

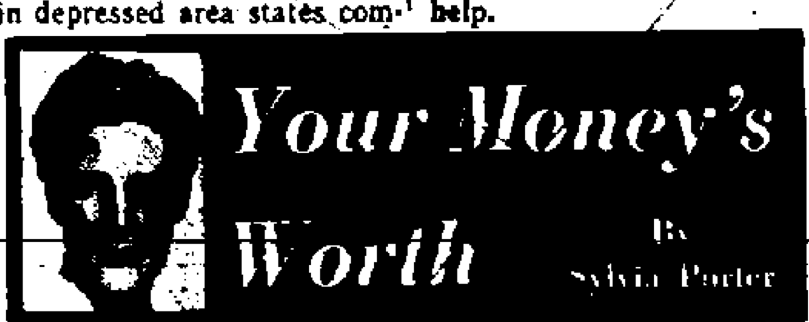
Although both parties have emphasized, in recent years, the need to revitalize so-called economically-depressed areas, they failed repeatedly to agree on a program.

THE BELIEF now was that Kennedy's campaign speeches in depressed area states committed him so heavily to swift action that he would be compelled to give the problem high priority.

Present speculation was that a Kennedy administration bill would be similar to the $251 million Democratic plan of this year but more restrictive in its eligibility requirements.

The Democratic project — designed to stimulate investments in depressed areas through a loan and grant program — passed Congress last spring but was vetoed by President Eisenhower.

Under this bill, any community experiencing six per cent or more unemployment for 18 of the previous 24 months would qualify automatically for financial help.



If you have taken gains or losses on your stocks during 1960's violently fluctuating stock market, the time has come for you to plan to cut to a minimum the tax you owe on your profits, raise to a maximum tax savings on your losses.

You have 50 days left before the end of the year in which to do this. Right now, you should list all the securities you have sold in 1960, calculate your short and long-term gains or losses on them.

Here, in our language, are the key facts.

THE FUNDAMENTAL RULES ARE:

If in 1960 you have sold a stock you owned more than six months at a profit, you have a long-term capital gain which will be taxed at no more than a 25 per cent rate.

The 25 per cent rate is the maximum, because first you cut the amount of your gain in half before you apply your regular tax rate and this half can't be taxed at more than 50 per cent.

Actually, you may pay less than 25 per cent if your top tax bracket is under 50 per cent.

If in 1960 you have sold at a profit a stock you held six months or less, you have a short-term gain which is fully taxable at the regular rate applying to your ordinary income.

If in 1960 you have sold a stock at a loss, the time you held it doesn't matter. Short or long-term, the loss may be used to offset any capital gains and up to $1,000 of your ordinary income in 1960. And you can "carry forward" losses above $1,000 to offset any gains and up to $1,000 of ordinary income a year through 1965.

NOW IF YOU HAVE TAKEN:

Only short-term gains in 1960. It would be to your tax advantage to take losses you now have, for these losses will offset your gains and save taxes at the rate applying to your ordinary income.

Only long-term gains in 1960. It would be to your tax advantage to avoid taking losses during the balance of the year and to postpone these losses to 1961 or later. For you must apply such losses before you make the 50 per cent cut in your capital gains, and thus these losses get only 50 per cent recognition.

Both long and short-term gains in 1960. You should avoid taking any long-term losses during the rest of the year because they would be only 50 per cent effective in cutting your taxes. But you might take short-term losses up to the amount of your short-term gains because they'll reduce your taxes at the full ordinary income rates.

Non-Farming Employment Shows Gain

Albany (UPI) — September business activity in New York State reached a record high for that month, the State Department of Commerce reported.

The state's preliminary index of business activity, seasonally adjusted, was at 140 for September. This was an increase of one point over August figures and four points above the September, 1959, level.

Non-farm employment in the state showed the greatest August to September rise since 1952 but claimants for unemployment insurance in September were up 9,000 from August.

The total 6,288,000 non-farm workers employed in September showed a gain of 77,000 over the previous month and 88,000 over September, 1959. Sizeable employment gains also were reported in manufacturing, retail trade and in government, where employment rose seasonally with school openings.

The number of manufacturing workers in September represented an increase of 22,000 over August but was down 11,000 from September, 1959. Some 1,934,000 manufacturing workers were employed in September.

The increase in unemployment rolls was due to a rise of 11,000 claimants Upstate, unemployment dropped by 2,500 in New York City.

Nixon Leaves For Florida

Nixon had nothing to say to reporters when he arrived at National Airport with his wife and two daughters for their flight to Miami. However, the family willingly posed for photographers.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press agent, said the Vice President will remain in Florida at least a week, resting from the rigors of the presidential campaign.

The trip will put Nixon in Florida at the same time President - Elect Kennedy also is resting there after his successful campaign. Kennedy plans a two-week vacation at Palm Beach.

The Nixons will stay at Key Biscayne, south of Miami. Nixon, who derides his own golfing ability, took his golf clubs with him.

SUPPER SCHEDULED

St. Johnsville—The Auxiliary Police Association will hold a ladies' night supper Nov. 19. Paul Dahleh, Ogden Walrath, James Sanguine and William Van Gorder are in charge of the supper. The Legion Auxiliary will serve.

Stock List In Slide On Profits

New York (UPI) — The stock market declined on profit-taking early this afternoon as trading simmered down after an active start.

Brokers said selling was to be expected in view of the vigorous rise before and immediately after the election of Sen. Kennedy. At the same time, semi-holiday conditions prevailed in Wall Street due to the observance of Veterans Day.
